

The UWTC meeting was held at the scheduled time, 8 PM, Thursday, 5 Dec.

The meeting opened with congratulating best student paper award recipients of the Montreal meeting.

We thanked the TPOM representative for the San Francisco meeting, Jim Lynch, followed by a lively discussion on the topic of posters vs. lectures. In general the members felt posters is an option that should remain, especially given the positive response received to the Wednesday poster session during this meeting.

The meeting then reviewed the Providence meeting: Special sessions and TPOM representatives. All in good order.

An announcement was made of the ASA School prior to the Providence meeting.

The meeting then turned its attention to the Indianapolis meeting, TPOM representative selected (Kevin Williams), and special sessions proposed (4 in total).

Information on other meetings of interest to UWTC members were announced.

Dave Bradley discussed his work as UW representative to the Oral History boot camp, and requested help from members for this important endeavor.

New Fellows were then congratulated.

The decision of eliminating mailing ASA meeting programs to all members before meetings was announced and met with no objections.

Student representative, Jennifer Wiley, reported on concerns and suggestions from student members.

The meeting is then adjourned.
