

The UWTC meeting was held at the scheduled time, 7:30 PM, Thursday, 30 October, 2014.

The meeting opened with thanking TPOM representative Kevin Williams and confirming the virtual TPOM representative for Pittsburg, Nick Chotiros.

Appreciations were extended to Alan Pierce, the outgoing JASA Editor. Jim Lynch was welcome as the new editor.

We then congratulated Mike Porter for receiving the Pioneers Award of Underwater Acoustics.

This is followed by congratulating best student paper award recipients of the Providence meeting.

UW student council representative James Esplin spoke on behalf of students.

A short discussion followed on the "Resume Desk" initiated by David Dowling.

The Congressional Fellows program is preannounced.

The meeting then reviewed the Indianapolis Special sessions, all held then were successful. The two special sessions for Pittsburg were then reviewed, and confirmed.

The meeting then turned its attention to the Jacksonville meeting, TPOM representative selected (Nick Chotiros), and special sessions proposed (2 in total).

Information on other meetings of interest to UWTC members were announced.

Ray Soukup of ONR discussed progress in environmental regulations for conducting underwater acoustics experiments.

Finally, the TC voted and passed the motion to devote $250 toward paying for postage of sending free ASA books to Chile.

The meeting is then adjourned.
